

The 2019 hurricane season has arrived

The 2019 Hurricane season begins on June 1st and ends November 30th. NJIUA will not accept applications for any new policies nor any request for increased coverage on an existing policy when either a hurricane watch or hurricane warning is in effect for any portion of New Jersey. The suspension of coverage will remain in place for 24 hours after the National Weather Service has removed the hurricane watch or warning.
